Home Learning task:

The home learning task for half term is linked to our love of reading. Children will need to find and read their favourite story – or stories by their favourite author - and bring this book (or a selection of books by this author) into school on the Friday after half term. They will be presenting their book(s) to the class on Friday 28th February.

The aim of this activity is to encourage children to talk about their favourite books and authors. We want children to love reading in and out of school. 😊

Some of the learning that has taken place this week...

In Maths we have focused on using the most appropriate strategy to solve problems. In English, we have writing AMAZING Big Writes about a spooky house. I am SO proud of every writer! We have also written our own version of The Sound Collector. In Science we have begun learning about polar bears and in History we have learned about David Attenborough and his national contributions.

During our first week back...

In English we will be exploring non-fiction texts and non-chronological reports. In Maths we will re-visit division. In History we will be writing questionnaires to give to a member of our family to find out about the past (Summer and winter memories when they were young). In Science we will continue our learning on polar bears.

Friday's times table test will be on the x5 tables. Children will be asked 5 questions from the 5x tables up to 5x12

(This will be for the 1st Friday after half term)
