Our learning

We have continued learning about the Anansi story this week. Children thought of some great words to describe Anansi's character and wrote a speech bubble about what he might be thinking. They also ordered pictures from the story and used it to re-tell the story- they did a great job.

In Maths we have been learning that a fraction is a part of a whole. We have found half and quarters of objects made with playdough and of 2D shapes

Diary dates and reminders...

Monday 15th November- anti-bullying week

Friday 19th November- Children in Need Appeal (non-uniform day)

Tuesday 7th December- Infant 4's Christmas song uploaded to see saw

Wednesday 8th December – Infant 5's Christmas song will be uploaded to see saw

Friday 17th December – Last day of the school term. Finish at 2:30

Home learning:

Next week's spelling pattern will be words ending in ll.

Please can children develop their understanding of halves and quarters with you at home by eg, helping to cut a pizza in half/ quarters, cutting a length of string in half/ quarters, filling a cup half way up.
